Behold the Word Recovered by God's People

Mary Kassian

1. How could a fresh rediscovery of God's Word reshape your life? How could it impact your family, your community, or even your nation?
2. Are there areas of your life where God's Word has been neglected or put "in the corner" rather than at the center?
3. Like Josiah, how do you respond when God's Word exposes your sin or shortcomings—do you feel conviction, indifference, or resistance?
4. What convictions shape your life? What beliefs hold you fast? Are they grounded by Scripture or shaped more by the world around you?
5. When you come across a truth in God's Word—something new or something you've forgotten—how do you respond? Are you moved to repentance and surrender, or is it easy to just brush it off?
6. What "idols" in your life (approval, comfort, career, social media, relationships, etc.) need to be torn down to fully follow God?
7. How is God asking you to boldly and publicly live out your convictions?
8. Who are people you can point to throughout history who have shone the spotlight on Jesus, inspiring you and others to live for Him?
